

Lead-Safe Home Repairs and Renovations

Lead poisoning can permanently affect a child's growth, behavior and ability to learn.

Homes built before 1978 may contain lead-based paint

- Under new layers of paint
- Under wallpaper
- In varnishes

Home repairs should be done by a certified lead professional.

If you complete repairs on your own, assume there is lead-based paint and use lead-safe methods.

Wash your hands, body and clothes after working with lead.

Test your child for lead by contacting your healthcare provider or your local public health department.
